There will be 1,468 delegates in the Virginia Constitutional Convention. It wouldn't seem from this that any of the outlying rural districts have been neglected.

Mr. Conger's boom for Governor of Iowa isn't yet assuming formidable proportions. In the dozen or more county conventions so far held his name hasn't been chirped.

The New York Herald's correspondent, after viewing the new yacht Constitution, which will defend the America cup, take a spin, pronounces her "the cleanest gaited racer ever built."

The railroads of Massachusetts played a practical joke on the solon who introduced a bill to require them to issue 500 mile books at 2 cents a mile, by quietly issuing them and saying nothing about it.

Senator Pettigrew, of South Dakota, who is a friend of Jas. J. Hill, the railroad man, who with Morgan worked that Northern Pacific racket recently in New York, says that Morgan and Hill came out on top, and the other fellows dropped about $30,000,000 in the rumpus.

It is said that the bridge to be built by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company across the Hudson river at New York will be the greatest bridge in the world. Well, that's right The country which has the greatest rivers, greatest lakes, highest mountains, greatest Trusts, greatest men, handsomest women and biggest humbugs in the world ought to have the greatest bridge.

A Muncie, Indiana, woman who was deserted by her husband, took it so much to heart that she invited all her neighbors over the next night, had a splendid layout and a jolly dance, at the conclusion of which she announced that her husband had lit out and she would follow his example by packing up and going to her father. Which she did the next day.

A West Virginia fellow who was jilted by his girl, who married another fellow, thought it bad enough to lose the girl without being soaked for $27.02 for ice cream and other refreshments he had lavished on her in his two years devotion. He made out an itemized bill for that amount and sued her to recover, but her mean lawyer made him acknowledge that he helped her to eat all this stuff and that laid him out.

GUARD ENCAMPMENT.

Members of Committee Are Still Here, But No Announcement of Location.

INSPECTION TRIP YESTERDAY.

Cols. Bain and Macon Looked Over the Wrightsville Field Again Yesterday and Will Leave To-day—Will Report at Raleigh.

Where will the State Guard Encampment be held?

Will it be Wrightsville or Southport, or will it be divided between the two?

If at Wrightsville, will it be on the grounds some years ago given to the State for this purpose, at the "Hammocks," or will it be on the old "Seaside Park" grounds?

These are a few of the hundred and one questions that are being fired at military men now a days, and especially since Cols. Macon and Bain, of the Governor's committee, have been casting about here for a location for the annual outing of the three North Carolina regiments.

It is enough to say that the committee up to last night had not definitely decided what report it would make upon it's return to Raleigh, and certainly nothing will be officially known until this report is made.

Col. Macon and Col. Bain made another trip to Wrightsville yesterday in company with Capt. George L. Morton and Col. W. A. Johnson and will go to Raleigh to-day to report early this week the result of their investigations. The sites inspected yesterday were the grounds regularly set aside for this purpose and deeded to the State a number of years ago; the Seaside Park location, and the "Hammocks." Between these three, it is learned the committee decided upon Seaside Park, but found it necessary to cable to the owner, Mrs. Poisson, in Europe, for permission to use the same. It was further learned but only semi-officially, that the idea of dividing the Encampment between Wrightsville and Southport as suggested in the STAR yesterday, has been abandoned.

And thus the question rests for the present.

UNVEILING CEREMONIES.

Many Will Leave This Morning to Attend Woodmen of the World Exercises at Newbern.

The indications are that a very large crowd will leave on the special A. C. L. train at 7:30 o'clock this morning for Newbern to attend the ceremonies of the unveiling of the monument over the grave of the late J. B. McDaniel by Live Oak Camp, No 6, Woodmen of the World, of this city.

There will be ample accommodations for all and the public is most cordially invited. The train will arrive at Newbern at 10 A. M. and will reach Wilmington upon the return at 8:30 P. M. The fare for the round trip is only $1.

Elmwood Camp No. 12., W. O. W., of Newbern, will take part in the unveiling of the monument and has arranged to entertain seventy-five members of the Wilmington Camp at Hotel Chattawka and Hotel Hazelton.

The unveiling will take place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the service will consist of songs, prayer and an oration by J. O. Carr, Esq., of this city. A special quartette will go from Wilmington to assist in the music. Rev. H. C. Moore of Newbern, will officiate as chaplain.

Reduced rates will be given at Newbern hotels to all persons registering from Wilmington. The Woodmen haven't arranged the excursion for money-making purposes or for Sabbath desecration. The law of the order provides for the erection of monuments and the unveiling ceremonies, and expressly stipulates that the exercises shall be on Sunday.

Live Oak Camp, of Wilmington, has a membership of 150 persons and something of the beneficent work of the order may be gathered when it is known that it has paid out in Wilmington in the past five years $12,000 in death benefits and has erected five handsome monuments over the graves of deceased members.

The committee of arrangements for the unveiling to-day is composed as follows: A. H. Paddison (chairman) Benj. Bell, Jno. E. Wood, J. W. Fleet, G. C. Jackson, W. H. Howell, J. D. Webster. Dr. J. D. Webster has been elected Chief Marshal.

Opera House Engagement.

"Hart," the "Laugh King" and hypnotist, will begin a three nights' engagement at the Opera House Monday, June 3rd. It is said that they give a marvelous entertainment, and merit the public patronage.

Portsmouth got rather the better end of the hard luck proposition, so common just now in base ball gossip, and made it two out of three with the locals in the game at Hilton Park yesterday afternoon.

The score was 7 to 3 in a ten inning contest, the visitors having been enabled to put on a garrisonian finish by piling up four runs on costly errors by the locals in the tenth.

The battery work of both teams was a decided feature—there was none other, barring a beautiful catch by McGinnis in centre field. "Tacks" Allen was in finer form than usual in the box for the locals and was handing up superb leather until he had to leave the slab in the ninth inning on account of an injured arm as a result of having been hit by a pitched ball while at bat in the eighth. Stewart relieved him but did not have time to warm up to his usual superb work. Voltz for the visitors was as fine as seen here and got a little the better share in the distribution of honors by the cranks after the game.

Portsmouth opened up with fans by Swander and Kemmer and an infield hit by Weaver. Sebring for the locals led off with a single to right, and was sacrificed by Clayton. Crockett and Stafford went out from second and pitcher.

Portsmouth came back at 'em with an infield out by Murray, a single by Knau, a fly out to Crockett by Clarke and a foul and out by Westlake to Warren. For the Giants, a fan by Devlin and Thackara and a foul by Warren to Kemmer was the best we could put up.

Portsmouth opened up the fireworks with a fan by Rapp and a two base hit by Voltz, which became a run on Devlin's wild throw to third; Weaver went out to Crockett, but Swander was hit by a pitched ball, and Big Bill Kemmer scored him on a beautiful two base hit to deep left; then Big Bill himself rushed across the rubber on Murray's two base hit, but Murray died on an attempt to get third cushion. A hit out to first by McGinnis, an amble of "Tacks" Allen to first, a fan by Sebring and a fly out by Clayton to centre wound up the locals. Score 3 to 0.

Then the rooters began to wonder if the Giants could overcome that horrible lead. The fourth inning came on with a single by Knau down third base line, a hit by Clarke to Allen and a beautiful double to Crockett to Stafford, retiring Knau and Clarke. Then came a fly out by Westlake to Warren, and the locals came on with a hit out to pitcher by Crockett, a foul out by Stafford to Westlake and a hit out to second by Devlin.

In the fifth Rapp singled through Warren, Voltz popped out to Allen; Weaver forced Rapp at second and Swander hit out to first. The Giants followed and scored on Thackara's single by short, a sacrifice by Warren, and a single by McGinnis upon which Thackara made the run. McGinnis got third on Swander's error but was caught off third on Allen's hit to short; Allen stole second but the side went out on Sebring's fly to Clark. Score 3 to 1.

In the sixth, Kemmer and Knau fanned; Murray flew out to centre. Clayton fanned for the Giants; Crockett went out to second; Stafford walked but Devlin popped out to Kemmer.

Fans by Clark and Voltz, a single by Westlake over second and a fly-out to Clayton by Rapp wound up the seventh for the visitors, while the locals went down on a foul by Thackara, a fan by Warren and a hit to short by McGinnis.

The eighth was another lucky one for the Giants, Weaver having fanned and Swander and Kemmer having gone out to Crockett and Sebring. Then Allen was paralyzed by being hit by a pitched ball, Sebring flew out to second; Clayton walked; Murray dropped Crockett's fly and Allen scored, Devlin flew out to second.

In the ninth, Murray flew out to Crockett and Allen saw that his arm was gone. Stewart relieved him and Knau flew out to Crockett; Clark went out to McGinnis. The locals opened up with a single by Thackara and Cranston, batting for Warren, got first on Voltz's error, while Thackara crossed the plate, tieing the score. Sebring fanned.

Now comes the fatal tenth and Cranston goes on third in place of Warren. Westlake comes up and smashes a hot one to Cranston, who makes a beautiful stop but ruined everything with a wild throw to first; Rapp flies out to Crockett and Voltz gets the initial bag on Cranston's error. It is hard luck on Cranston but "Reddy" dosen't profess to be a third baseman and no one can blame him for it. Singles by Weaver and Swander score Westlake and Voltz and another error by Cranston allows Kemmer his first base while Weaver scores; Murray gets hit by pitched ball and Knau flies out to left, while Swander crosses the plate for the fourth run in this inning. Clarke relieves the agony by going out from short. The Giants were unable to overcome that "crush" recited above, and Clayton pops out to first, while Crockett gets the initial cushion on an error by Voltz; Stafford flies out to second and "Davy" is doubled at first.

We Couldn't Help It.

— "On to Richmond" will be the cry of the Giants at 9:05 this morning.

— It is singular but Wilmington, Richmond and Norfolk made exactly the same scores yesterday as on the day before.

— On their merits the Giants are entitled to four out of the seven games in which they will take part this week.

— In his crippled condition it was impossible for Clayton to do his usual fine work. He was really too lame to be in the game.

— No games at Wilmington this week. This will give the lunatics time to recuperate mentally, physically and financially.

— The Giants will never go into deep mourning so long as they can take four out of six games. That's what they did last week.

— After an enforced absence of a day from his accustomed position, Clayton "resumed business at the old stand" and met a hearty greeting.

— Wouldn't a glance at the percentage column paralyze you? The result of to-morrow's games will bring about wondrous changes in the standing of several of the clubs.

— Wilmington goes to Richmond for three games this week, thence to Newport News for four games, playing two on the 30th. Newport News-Hampton and Norfolk play in Wilmington next week.

— Portsmouth has a good strong team with a good strong record. Last week at Raleigh and Wilmington it took four out of six games and the week before it took five out of six. They are a good, clever set of fellows, and who says they don't play ball?

— The horse editor thought he'd be smart yesterday. So he went to work and invented a new style of horn which he christened the rooter-tooter. Then he turned it over to Senator Morton, and the Senator made such horrible music that it hoodooed the Giants.

— Yes, just to please the children, the horse editor allowed the religious editor to advertise in the STAR for a team that could beat Wilmington. Of course, the report shows that an advertisement in the STAR always brings what is asked for; but, then, we are sorry there wasn't an exception to the rule this time.

The Primary Union.

The Primary Sunday School Teachers' Union held its meeting yesterday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Sunday school rooms. The lessons for to-day: "The Holy Spirit Given," with the golden text, "When He, the Spirit of Truth is Come he will Guide you into all Truth."—John 16-13, was taught by Dr. Calvin S. Blackwell, who used the blackboard to illustrate the truths. It was listened to throughout with a great deal of interest; the simple, child-like questions having been well elucidated. The meeting was well attended and the Sunday school teachers greatly benefitted.

GROCERY SALESMEN.

Travellers for Wilmington Wholesale Houses Organized Association Last Night.

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED.

Constitution and By-Laws Were Adopted. Crusade Inaugurated for New Members—The Jobbers Asked to Become Honorary Members.

The wholesale grocery travelling salesmen met last night at 8:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Merchants' Association in the Seaboard Air Line building and perfected their organization. There was a good attendance and the work of organization was taken up where it was left off at a preliminary session two or three weeks ago.

The meeting was called to order at 8:30 o'clock by Mr. W. S. Bunting and Mr. Stevenson Brown was requested to act as secretary.

The constitution and by-laws as presented by the committee consisting of Messrs. W. S. Bunting, J. Stevenson Brown and E. Schulken, was read and adopted by sections on motion of Mr. F. E. Hashagen.

The constitution sets forth the name and objects of the organization as The Salesmen's Co-operative Association formed for the purpose of the maintenance of contract prices, the improvement of methods in morals and selling goods, and the promotion of good fellowship among its members.

After the adoption of the constitution there was an election of officers for the ensuing year as follows:

President—W. S. Bunting.
Vice President—E. Schulken.
Secretary and Treasurer—I. W. Cooper.

Upon motion of Mr. Schulken it was decided that the adoption of the constitution and by-laws be subject to the approval of the Wilmington Wholesale Grocers' Association.

It was moved, seconded and carried that a committee consisting of Messrs. E. Schulken and I. W. Cooper call upon the grocery salesmen and the wholesale grocers of the city and urge upon them the necessity of having the salesmen become members of the Association.

A resolution was adopted asking the co-operation of all jobbers and requesting them to become associat members of the organization.

The Association starts off well, with a large and enthusiastic membership. The constitution provides that meetings shall be held on the first and third Saturday nights of each month at 8:30 o'clock. For the present the sessions will be held in the rooms of the Merchants' Association. Infractions of the rules in the matter of rate cutting, etc., are punishable by fines.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 26, 1901.

DESTROYING THE SUBSIDY SCHEME.

The professed object in presenting the ship subsidy bill fathered by Senator Frye and Representative Payne, and sponsored by Senator Hanna, was to build up an American merchant marine. The arguments in favor of it were that American ships are necessary for American commerce, to make American exporters independent of ships which belong to the nations with whose exporters they have to compete. There is something in that, although it is not an argument for subsidizing ship owners or ship builders.

Another reason was that if Americans built ships they could not sail them in competition with foreign ships because American sailors demand higher wages than foreign sailors get, and our ships are required to provide better for their crews, which entails a much heavier expense upon them than the foreign ship owner has to bear, which gives the foreign ship owner a very decided advantage over the American. This may be true, but it is not an argument for ship subsidies for the reason that it is based on an assumption which may or may not be well founded. It had no test because since 1861 we have had no marine on the high seas to compete with the merchant marines of other countries. That our shipping laws as far as they apply to the provisions which must be made for American sailors, or sailors on American ships are not a serious obstacle is shown by the fact that our merchant marine grew steadily and rapidly up to 1858, when it carried 85 per cent. of our exports and imports, and ranked next to the merchant marine of Great Britain, the mistress of the sea, and competed successfully with the ships of all nations, notwithstanding these laws, which they now say prevent the American ship owner from competing with the foreign ship owner. If with the same laws in operation they could compete up to 1858 they ought to be able to do it now.

If we had a merchant marine and paid higher wages than foreign vesseles pay, and provided better for seamen than other vessels do wouldn't that draw seamen into the service of American ships and compel foreign ship owners to increase wages and otherwise make better provision for their crews? Men go where they get the best wages and fare best, and for this reason American ships would soon have the pick of the seas, and the wage question would soon cease to be a factor if it be a factor now.

But there is not much in this assumption any way even if it were true, for if we had a merchant marine ample for our needs we could not count on getting Americans enough to man it, at the present rates of wages, what they say are so much higher than than foreign ships pay that our ships could not compete with these foreign ships. The difference between the wages paid on land and on sea is so great that there are few Americans who care to follow the sea as ordinary seamen. This is so true that a very considerable porportion of the seamen on our war ships, in our coast service and on the lakes are foreign born, and many of them not citizens. They are willing to work for lower wages than Americans, just as foreigners have to a great extent taken the place of Americans in our coal and iron mines. Up to 1858 this did not operate to the same extent that it does now for then with our comparatively limited settled territory and much of that along the Atlantic, young men had not the same opportunities to find employment, and to better their condition that they have now, and therefore there were more of them, in porportion to population, willing to take to the sea than there are now. The probabilities are that if we had a large merchant marine we would be dependent upon foreign seamen mainly to man it, as we are to a great extent now to man our war ships and other vessels.

If there were anything in this contention about the necessity of subsidy to offset the difference of wages on American and foreign ships wouldn't it be necessary to make the subsidy perpetual? Of course it would, or there is nothing in that contention.

Again, they say that we ought to save the $200,000,000 or thereabouts which we annually pay to foreign ship owners for sea service and pay it to American ship owners. Well, isn't J. Pierpont Morgan, representing an American syndicate, buying big fleets of English ships, to which they propose to keep on adding? It is asserted that his plan is to get possession of vessels enough to control the carrying trade between this country and Europe, putting on lines of vessels from our leading ports to run in connection with the system of railroads embraced in the great combine which he has formed, covering more than one-half the railroad mileage of the whole country. Will not the money, or the most of it, paid for ocean service then go into the coffers of Americans and be saved? From the bold beginning which Mr. Morgan has made it looks as if the time is not far distant when the question as to who will get the most of the $200,000,000 expended for transportation across the seas will be solved without any subsidy.

But in addition to all this we are told that it is necessary to encourages American shipbbuilders, who cannot compete with foreign shipbuilders on account of the higher cost of labor &c., in this country. This is the same stale old humbug which has been played to bolster up the protective tariff. Right on the face of it comes the announcement of the organization of a great shipbuilding combine backed by American and English and money, which proposes to have on the Delaware river the largest shipbuilding plant in the world, and compete with the world in the building of all kinds of ships. When shipbuilders will put $15,000,000 or $20,000,000 into a business of this kind without any subsidy, where is the need of thrusting a subsidy upon them, or where is the justice in taxing the people to pay them millions of dollars for doing what they propose to do without it? Doesn't it look as if the events that are taking place now are distroying the subsidy scheme, and that Americans will own ships and build them without any subsidies?

STILL CHARGING IT TO BRYAN.

During the late Presidential campaign the Republican organs and campaigners mocked the charge that Wm. J. Bryan was responsible for the prolongation of the war in the Philippines and made much of the alleged utterance of Gen. Lawton that "if I am killed Wm. J. Bryan will be responsible for my death." This became standing matter in many of the Republican organs through the campaign and they and the stump speakers worked it for all it was worth. Of course the motive of that was fully understood and it didn't fool many sensible people.

But the election being over there is no reason why they should continue to harp on that string and repeat that kind of rot, but some of them do, even while Mr. McKinley is congratulating the people whom he addresses on the era of good feeling. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat quotes Gen. Fred Grant as saying:

"I stopped active operations after the nomination of Bryan and tried only to protect my own men.' But when the news of the election came the American forces struck hard. No headway could be made between July and November, because the Filipinos had read Bryan's letter of acceptance and knew that his election meant American retreat. The Tagal assistants in the United States are responsible for the needless loss of thousands of lives."

The only distinguished thing about Fred Grant is his name, to which he is, no doubt, indebted for the position he holds. If he ever particularly distinguished himself before going to the Philippines, we have failed to learn it, and if he has particularly distinguished himself since the discovery is confined to to those islands. What motive could he have for reiterating this arrant rot at this late day, after it had served its purpose in the campaign? Did he "stop active operations "when Senator Hoar and other distinguished Republicans were denouncing the war and holding Aguinaldo as "a second Washington?"

In his speech at Greenville Senator McLaurin read and virtually endorsed, a letter from a gentleman in Georgia who had lost a son in the Philippines, which son told his father that he held Wm. J. Bryan responsible for his death. This wounded young man may have felt that way, but he was simply repeating what he had heard others say. But Gen. Fred Grant, and the politicians who played that ro t in the campaign, didn't feel that way, nor did Senator McLaurin when he approvingly read Mr. Crenshaw's letter. Wm. J. Bryan was no more responsible for the prolongation of the war in the Philippines and the deaths in battle after his nomination than was every Democrat in South Carolina, or in the United States who endorsed his nomination, supported and voted for him.

IRON AND SALT.

The Industrial Commission in session in Washington is receiving a variety of information and listening to a variety of opinions from the persons who appear before it. It had some views a couple of days ago on Trusts as affecting iron and salt, the former by Hermon B. Butler, a large iron merchant Chicago, and the latter by Christian Klincke, a pork packer of Buffalo, N. Y. They are thus, in subsistence reported by some:

"Mr. Butler said he had no anxiety concerning Trusts, as he believed that if they raised prices so as to insure abnormal profits competition inevitably would arise and thus result in benefiting the public. He said that iron and steel products can be produced more cheaply in the United States than abroad, and that in his opinion the time had come when the tariff on them could be dispensed with."

Mr. Butler doesn't fear the Trusts because if they get to putting prices up too high there will be a competition; but how long would competition hold out against a combine with a billion dollars capital, and owning railroads, boats, iron and coal mines? Such a combine is in a position, as long as it holds together, to defy any competition and to hold the fort.

He is of the opinion that the time has come when the tariff on iron and steel can be dispensed with, but Hon. Mark Hanna and Mr. Schwab, president of the billion dollar combine, differ from him.

The following shows how the Salt Trust operates:

"In the afternoon the Commission listened to a statement by Mr. Christian Klincke, a pork and beef packer of Buffalo, N. Y., who spoke concerning the salt industry. He said that the price of salt had been advanced to such an extent by the Salt Trust that the Buffalo packers had combined and bought out the Trust salt plant at Leroy, N. Y. They had found that salt could be made and freighted from that point to Buffalo at a cost of $3.25 per ton, whereas they were paying the National Salt Company $5 70 per ton."

If there were no duty on salt could the National Salt Company thus salt the people who buy its salt, charging them nearly double as much as the salt would cost to make and deliver? Talking about successful competitor when the Trusts are strengthened by the protective tariff is folly.

It doesn't take much to arouse the suspicion of some people. Just because a young man in Camden, N. J., who happened to live in Philadelphia, went to a ship yard and said he owned it and several blocks of buildings on Broad and Chestnut streets in Philadelphia they arrested him on suspicion of being insane, and when he offered the policeman a check for $6,000,000 to turn him loose they felt sure of it.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—— Admiral Schley expresses anything but the alarm which appears to agitate the patriotic bosom of Senator Lodge over the danger of Germany's appropriation of Brazil and defiance of the Monroe doctrine. The gallant Admiral is not so wanting in respect for the good sense of the Germans as to attribute to them absurd designs wholly repugnant to their character.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

—— The dispatches from Southampton say the king's escape from death, when Shamrock II. was dismasted by a squall, was "miraculous." Nonsense! He was no more saved by a miracle than was the humblest man of the crew. None was lost or hurt. The making of a great sensation out of it, by reason of the king being on board, is in the spirit of mere toadyism.—Chattanooga Times, Ind.

—— Not much encouragement for Government ownership of public utilities, it is remarked, is found in the fact that in the telegraphic service conducted by the British Government there is an annual loss of $3,500.000. The aggregate losses since the Government took over the lines is $41,500. "Unproductive extensions must be discouraged," was the only reply of Hicks-Beach to the query as to a remedy.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

—— It seems to us that he (Senator McLaurin) is in closer touch with the Republican party than with the Democratic party. On all of the live questions—the questions which are commanding the attention of the country—he appears to be as good a Republican as the President. He is with that party on the Philippine question, the tariff question, the money question, and he makes as good an argument as any Republican can in favor of the ship subsidy bill.—Savannah News, Dem.

The Fad

Of the modern woman is health by exercise. It's an excellent fad, provided that it is always remembered that exercise cannot cure womanly diseases.

Indeed, where such diseases exist exercise is apt to aggravate the condition rather than to help it.

The first step toward establishing the general health is to establish the local womanly health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases which undermine the general health. It establishes regularity, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

When these are cured, backache, headache and nervousness are things of the past. The universal testimony of weak and sickly women, cured by "Favorite Prescription," is this: "It has made me feel like a new woman."

"My wife has used three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine, and I never saw such results," writes A. B. Haynes, Esq., of Aurora, Lawrence Co., Mo. "It was wonderful in its work. We had used lots of medicine, also had one of the best physicians in Aurora, but my wife got no better; we heard one pitiful groan after another, day and night. A friend handed me a copy of Dr. Pierce's book, the Common Sense Medical Adviser, and after reading the testimonials of Dr. Pierce's successful treatment, and seeing that the cases described were similar to my wife's, I bought for her a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Before she had taken all of the medicine she was up and helping to do the work. She has taken three bottles and is now about well. Has better health than she has had for years."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

MY LOVE AND I.

I know, if every restless tide
That circles life with fall and flow,
If all the storms of winter wide,
That from the deep, dark heavens blow
Between us two should sweep;
Still, through the tide and o'er the storm
Each should behold a cherished form,
And spirit call to spirit warm,
And soul with soul should weep.

I know, if all that life can hold
Of treasured wealth that men esteem,
If rank and fame and gild of gold,
All vanish like a splendid dream,
And thou remain alone;
These one and all could I resign.
Could I but clasp thy heart to mine,
And, strong in that sweet love of thine,
Could mock all fate had done.

And if the shadow dim and cold
That waits upon the shores of Night,
Should come forth silently and bold,
And beckon from my longing sight.
The friends of former years;
Though low in ashes by the dead,
I bowed with dust on heart and head,
Still, still life's path we two could tread,
Mingling our prayers and tears.

And when it comes—for come it will—
That one of us shall lie so low,
And by a form all cold and still
The other kneel in speechless woe,
All mute in lone despair;
Still there, above the voiceless tomb,
I feel the soul bewept would come,
And kiss the quivering lips so dumb
And love be conqueror there.

SUNDAY SELECTIONS.

— Coarse wit is not keen because it falls on dull ears.

— Wise men of ancient times were probably no wiser than other men, but they talked less.

— It is better to know what is to be done and how to do it, than to know what has been done and who did it.

— Every man's task is his life-preserver. The conviction that his work is to God and cannot be spared defends him.—R. W. Emerson.

— Suffering is an accident. It does not not matter whether you and I suffer. Not enjoyment and not sorrow is our life, not sorrow any more than enjoyment, but obedience and duty. If duty brings sorrow, let it bring sorrow.—Philips Brooks.

— Our progress, which is our peculiar glory, consists in at once losing and learning the past; in gaining fresh stations from which to take a wiser retrospect, and become more deeply aware of the treasure we have used.—James Martineau.

— Every man is rich or poor according to the degree in which he can afford to enjoy the necessaries, conveniences and amusements of human life. What is bought with money or goods is purchased by labor, as much as what we acquire by the toil of our own body.—Adam Smith.

— The first thing to do, if you have not done it, is to fall in love with your work. Don't brood over the past nor dream of the future; but seize the instant and get your lesson from the hour. Don't wait for extraordinary opportunities; seize common occasions and make them great.

— We can only give what we have. Happiness, grief, gayety, sadness, are, by nature, contagious. Bring your health and your strength to the weak and sickly and so you will be of use to them. Give them, not your weakness, but your energy—so you will revive and lift them up. Life alone can rekindle life.—Aniel.

A Long Range Duel.

An interesting story is told of a duel between the Boer General Botha and a British sharpshooter called Sampson. This encounter took place during the war of 1881, when the British first learned to their cost the deadly aim of the Boer marksmen.

Sampson had taken up a position behind a large bowlder and was preparing to "pick off" the enemy when a bullet from a Boer, concealed like himself 300 yards away, knocked off his hat.

Waiting until he caught a glimpse of the Boer, Sampson fired. He was so satisfied that he had hit his opponent that he inconsiderately raised his head and instantly got a bullet in the neck. The Boer, convinced in his turn that his antagonist was dead, rose to his knees. He was struck in the shoulder by another of Sampson's bullets, but before he dropped fired again and lodged a shot in Sampson's side.

The duel continued until each man became unconscious. They were found later by their comrades and carried off the field in a dying condition. Happily both recovered. The Boer was General Botha.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Sound Kidneys Insure Good Health.

Mr. John H. Corlies, Secretary of the Council Bluffs, Ia., Athletic Association, was cured of kidney trouble by Peruna. He says:

"I am a firm believer in Peruna. For three years I suffered with severe trouble of the kidneys and other pelvic organs, trying several remedies without relief. I used Peruna faithfully for fourteen weeks and am glad to say it relieved me entirely of all pains.

"I am in excellent health, have gained twelve pounds in weight, and never felt better in my life."

Hon. D. L. Jaycox, Chaplain of the Grand Army of the Republic, writes from 865 Broadway, Oakland, Cala:

"I am an old war veteran. I contracted severe bladder and kidney trouble, spent hundreds of dollars and consulted a host of doctors, but neither did me any good.

"Finally some of my comrades who had been cured by Peruna, advised me to try it. I at once bought a bottle and found it helped me so much that I kept on using it for nearly four months.

"Peruna has proven the best medicine I ever used, my pains are gone, and I believe myself to be cured. I feel well and would not be without a bottle in time of need for ten times its cost."

Mrs. Mary Lawler, of Appleton, Wis., was cured of kidney trouble by Peruna. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman, she says: "Last August I caught a summer cold which settled in the kidneys and caused me serious inconvenience. Nothing I did seemed to help me and the doctor advised a change of climate. As that was out of the question for me, I tried Peruna as a last resort, and I found it was a God-send to me."

The kidneys are the natural gateway out of which much of the waste tissue finds its escape. This waste matter becomes a very poisonous substance if allowed to accumulate. The renal artery brings the blood charged with impurities to the kidneys.

If the kidneys are healthy they will excrete the poison from the blood. The renal veins return the purified blood from the kidneys to the general circulation.

Peruna stimulates the kidneys to excrete from the blood the accumulating poison, and thus prevents the convulsions which are sure to follow if the poisons are allowed to remain. It gives great vigor to the heart's action and digestive system, both of which are apt to fail rapidly in this disease.

Kidney diseases are more liable in summer than in winter. Send for a copy of "Summer Catarrh," written by Dr. Hartman. This book will be sent free to any address upon application.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The cotton market opened steady with prices unchanged to 12 points higher. July led the advance, opening at 7.92 as against 7 80 last night. As a matter of precaution July shorts bought June as a hedge, causing almost equal strength in that position. Trading all the forenoon was excited but not specially active Room and Southern near months shorts were the leading buyers and seemed desperately afraid that July would reach eightcents beforethe close. Offerings were slim and scaled up from 7.90 to 8 cents. Absence of news from Liverpool which market was closed on account of Whitsuntide, holidays with rumors of a bad scare of shorts in New Orleans, helped to unnerve the bear interest and to stimulate buying for a further advance. Receipts were heavy, the weather south was fully as good as expected and crop reports showed steady improvement in the condition generally. Claims that large blocks of low grade were coming here from the South, the difference allowing handsome profits on such shipments now that our market is the highest in the world, appeared to in no way calm July ishorts, who continued to bid feverishly for large blocks. An advance to 7.95 occurred soon after the opening and all the morning the market was strong in an erratic way. The Summer months absorbed the bulk of attention, though August failed to rise much above last night's close. Feverish support from shorts kept the market well up to the top during the late session. The market closed inactive with prices net five higher to five lower.

THE LATEST AS TO NERVES AND STRENGTH

It is not muscle so much as the nerves back of muscle which show one's strength and power of endurance. And the study with able physicians of to-day is how to keep the nerves in perfect health and fitted for the strain of everyday living. Headache of every type, nerve weakness, dyspepsia, sleeplessness, langnor, restlessness, nervous dyspepsia, muscular weakness, brain weariness, poor circulation,—a thousand different unpleasant feelings and symptoms are due to nerve waste and nerve weakness,—especially in women and children. But how can all this be prevented, one will ask? How can my broken down constitution be repaired, and nerve strength and full, robust health be secured. Just two points to remember: Determine that you will grow strong in nerves and health, and decide to use at once that most famous nerve cure, COCELIN. It is delicious in taste, quick in action and makes the wearied nerves tingle with renewed strength and every function the stronger and faculty the brighter by its use. Druggists sell it.

CLOTHING THE BABY.

HOW TO MAKE LITTLE DRESSES, LONG AND SHORT.

The Newest Styles For the Wee Ones and How an Outfit May Be Manufactured at Home—Pretty Summer Garments.

[Copyright, 1901, by American Press Association.]

The tiny, newborn baby now has its little woven shirt, half silk and half wool and as soft as thistle down. Next to that comes the long woven flannel band, and this has tapes and buttons for fastening. Then comes the little absorbent diaper made of soft and flexible waterproofed material. Tiny knitted socks of the finest zephyr keep the mites of feet warm. After these come the "barrie coat." This is open down the front in the old way, but buttons fasten it, and there are armholes to keep it up. No pins are needed, and so the flannel petticoat is made in the same way as to the waist, and so is the pretty white nainsook one. These used to be made double. They are not now. And they hang loose, the flannel bandage being considered sufficient to keep the body firm. Then comes the long dress. This is of thin white stuff, the finest and best that can be afforded. This little dress is not over one yard long now, and the surplus length is put into a yoke and sleeves. The flannel shirt has long sleeves too.

Small close hoods of lace, silken lined, and a long elder down cloak made double and with long sleeves and a small knit veil for cold days complete the outfit of most babies now. This does not count the sleeping wrapper, which may be flannel or doubled cutting flannel.

When the baby goes into short clothes, there may be a little more individuality. The short dresses and petticoats may be just simply cut down shorter. They are merely gathered at the neck only and left to fall straight down. It takes two yards of cambric or any other white cotton goods to make a frock with deep hem, but no tucks, for a child of 6 months and on to 10 or 12 months. A little embroidery or, better still, crocheted edging is put at the neck and wrists. Tiny buttons at the neck in the back finish it. To cut this needs no diagram. The arm sizes are hollowed out and the three inch shoulders very slightly sloped and an inch taken out of the front at the neck. Then it is ready to gather and put the band on and sleeves in.

FOR THE LITTLEST GIRLS.

Those frocks where there is a yoke are quite as easy to make. The yoke may be cut after an old one, and it opens in the back always. From the yoke measure the length to the bottom. It needs two breadths, and two yards will make the whole dress. Nainsook costs but 12 cents a yard. Many ladies have cambric skirts partly worn, and such material is far better for the baby than new. These frocks may be trimmed or featherstitched, but so many are required to keep the baby clean and sweet that it is better to have more plain ones than fewer ones with trimming.

The only real difference in the outfit of the child of a year and that of the infant of a month is that the small one has long clothes. The older one has shoes and stockings instead of knit socks. The stockings, in winter at least, should be of wool and long and fastened with side elastics.

For summer for babies over a year and a half the new long waisted effects are suitable. To make such a frock take one yard and a half of nainsook or other fine cotton or linen lawn and cut it into two pieces and sew them together, and then lay clusters of fine tucks all around lengthwise, letting them end six inches above the bottom. Finish this with a row of embroidery or lace. Sew a bertha at the top made of the material edged with the embroidery, and one row beneath that for sleeves. Between the clusters of tucks stitch rows of insertion. This is to come but to the low waist line. A soft ribbon sash is tied around the waist low down. A smaller bow is in the front of the neck. This little dress can be used for a model, and many variations can be evolved.

The newest style is to have the little frock either depend direct from the yoke or neck, without a waist, or to have the waist come down nearly to the hips.

Coats for such small children are made on the Mother Hubbard plan and should be warm as well as soft and light. For every day there is nothing to compare with a good quality of eider down flannel. OLIVE HARPER.

Dressing Fish In 1575.

Prepare fish after this sort: Set a good quantity of white strong vinegar and stale ale, with a cursey of salt, a little mint, origanum, parsley and rosemary, and when your liquor boileth fast upon the fire stop the mouth of your fish with a nutmeg thrust down into his throat and cast him skipping into the liquor, keeping him down till he be thorow dead and perfectly sodden. Dress pikes, roches, carps, grailings, mullets and all great fish of the river in the like sort, for it will make them to eat pleasant, crisp, brittle and firm, not watrish and flaggy, as most fish do, because we know not how to use and order them.—Dr. Thomas Muffett, 1575.

China's Long Bridge.

The longest bridge in the world is, it is recorded, the Lion bridge, near Saugang, in China. It extends 5¼ miles over an area of the Yellow sea and is supported by 300 huge stone arches. The roadway is 70 feet above the water and is inclosed in an iron network. A marble lion, 21 feet long, rests on the crown of each pillar. The bridge was built at the command of the Emperor Keing Long.

Told the Truth.

Gentleman (indignantly)—When I bought this dog, you said he was splendid for rats. Why, he won't touch them.

Dog Dealer—Well, ain't that splendid for the rats?

Her Friend.

He—She looks nice enough to eat.

She (severely)—Yes, plain food has its charms for some people.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY.

That Andrew Carnegie, the great steel and iron king, is deeply devoted to his fatherland of Scotland goes without saying. His gifts for libraries and other public institutions to various towns in Scotland are almost numberless. Among his latest beneficences was $50,000 for a new library in Dumfries, for which he recently laid the cornerstone. Besides his public works, he has also been expending large sums on his estate, improving and beautifying the immense grounds which surround his castle home.

Mr. Carnegie has always prided himself on his knowledge of Scotch literature and Scotch geography, but a recent experience showed him how easy it is to make mistakes in these fields. He was responding to an address made to him by the townspeople of Maxwelltown, near Dumfries, and in the course of his remarks made reference to Maxwelltown braes, under the impression that he was in the locality made famous by "Annie Laurie." Imagine his annoyance on being told by the provost at the conclusion of his remarks that he had made a mistake, as the Maxwelltown braes of the song are on an estate 16 miles away.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.

A Busy Canadian.

David Mills, the Canadian minister of justice is not only one of the ablest but one of the most popular men in the Dominion. His knowledge of affairs in every section of Canada is remarkable, and his friends are always surprised at the close touch in which he keeps with the people. It is said that he knows just how public sentiment stands on any question in any village in the Dominion. Sixty-eight years of age, he is as vigorous as any young man in parliament. His father was a native of New York, and, although born in Canada, the son was a student at the University of Michigan. Mr. Mills has been in public life since 1856 and for 32 years has been a member of parliament. Aside from his parliamentary duties, Mr. Mills finds time to edit The Daily Advertiser of London, Ont.

Sir Redvers Buller's Way.

Sir Redvers Buller of the British army, at present actively engaged in the South African campaign, is not only a strict disciplinarian in military concerns, but is also very prompt and uncompromising in the performance of what he conceives to be his duty in the more peaceful walks of life. This characteristic is illustrated in a story which comes from London. Not long ago a certain well known man was present at a dinner at Sir Redvers' house. This gentleman told an anecdote that was so "off color" as to greatly displease and distress the ladies.

SIR REDVERS BULLER.

When dinner was over, Sir Redvers rang the bell.

"Mr. A.'s carriage," he ordered when the butler appeared.

"I do not expect my brougham so early," said Mr. A., and there was a gleam of defiance in his eyes.

Sir Redvers did not reply, but he took Mr. A. by the arm and led him gently to the hall. "It is time for you to go," he said quietly, and his guest went.

The Easy End.

Lady—Are you willing to saw wood if I give you your dinner?

Tramp—No, but I'll do the other half.

Lady—The other half of what?

Tramp—The adage. I'll say nothing.—Chicago News.

SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 26

THE TEXAS OIL FIELDS.

Report of the Chief Geologist of the U. S. Geological Survey On Extent of the Oil Territory.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Robert T. Hill, chief geologist of the U. S Geological Survey, has returned from an extended geological investigation in the Texas oil fields, and has embodied the result in a report, which says:

"The importance of this oil field is far greater than at present can be described or estimated. It means not only a cheap fuel supply to the largest State in area in the Union, but owing to its proximity to tide water it promises an export trade such as exists nowhere else in the world. Preparations are being made to sink hundreds of wells and very soon the present output of 500,000 barrels a day may be quadrupled.

"It is entirely within the limit of probability that oil will be found at many places throughout the coastal pririe, and especially in its southern extension toward the Rio Grande and in the northeastern State of Mexico at Tamalipus. The outcrop of the territory formations in Southwest Texas, in Wilson, Atascosa, McMullen, Duval and other counties is naturally rich in oil and the practical oil men are risking their money in experimenting in that region. As the oil bearing tertiary strata extends east of the Mississippi into Louisiana and Alabama it is not beyond possibility that oil may be found in these States.

"It is impossible now to state exactly the extent of the oil yielding bed which supplies the Beaumont well and this can be only determined by drilling experiments.

"The area of profitable exploitation of the Beaumont oil fields is confined between the Sanjacinto and the Sabine rivers, east of the Houston and West Texas railroad and south of Oil City, Nagderches county. This area may be extended or restricted by future exploitation.

"It is very probable that other oil fields may be discovered in the coastal plain between Beaumont and Tampico fields. Here lies a vast territory underlaid by the oil bearing eocene formations which has not been exploited."

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY.

President and Mrs. McKinley Left San Francisco for Washington.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—President McKinley and party, after a sojourn of nearly two weeks in this city, left for Washington shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. McKinley enjoyed a refreshing night's rest and seemed elated at the prospect of soon being at home. She was conveyed from the Scott residence to the Oakland Ferry in a closed carriage by a circuitous route chosen so the invalid might pass only over smoothly paved streets. She was accompanied by the President, Dr. Rixey and a trained nurse.

There were no formal ceremonies at the depot. Good byes were exchanged by the President, cabinet members and others of the party with the friends who had come to wish them God speed, and the travellers boarded the ferry boat Oakland.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., May 25.—Mrs. McKinley showed no ill effects from her journey at the time Sacramento was reached and Dr. Rixey believes she will be able to stand the trip to Washington without stopping for rest along the route.

TORPEDO BOAT RENDEZVOUS.

No Determination by the Board As to the Points to be Recommended.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The naval torpedo boat board, which has in charge the determination of a policy for the torpedo boat fleet and the selection of a chain of stations along the Atlantic coast, returned to-day from a trip along the Southern coast. Visits were made to Pensacola and Fernandina, Fla., Savannah, Charleston, Port Royal and Norfolk. The board will now inspect the points on the Northern Atlantic coast. No determination has yet been made as to the central points to be recommended as a torpedo boat rendezvous. Brunswick, Ga., has been asked to have its merits considered as a torpedo boat station, but it is not likely that the Board will return South.

FALL RIVER MILLS.

Corporations Pledged to the Curtailment and Shut-Down Agreement.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

FALL RIVER, MASS., May 27.—Reports to-day indicated that from fifteen to eighteen corporations had pledged themselves in the combination curtailment and shut down agreement and that the original provisions have been modified to meet the conflicting interests. It was also stated that among the last half dozen agents signing, reservations have been made so that certain mills will not be compelled to carry out all of the provisions called for.

Some of the mills manufacturing coarse goods posted notices to-day announcing that they will not run next week, but making no statement as to when they will start up again.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S RIVAL SENATORS.

Tillman and McLaurin Put Their Resignations in the Hands of the Governor.

SENSATIONAL ARRANGEMENT

They Are to Go Before People of the State in Joint Canvass—If Tillman is Sustained McLaurin's Seat Will be Vacant—Hot Campaign.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

COLUMBIA, S. C., May 25.—To-day at Gaffney there was a spirited debate between United States Senators B. R. Tillman and John L. McLaurin. As a denouement, both of them have put their resignations in the hands of Governor McSweeney. They have resigned with the understanding that they are to go before the people of the State in a joint canvass and the sentiment of the people is to be expressed in the vote in a Democratic primary to be held in November.

The arrangement is sensational, for Tillman was last Summer elected for six years and McLaurin has yet two years to serve. The result of the issue means that if Tillman is sustained, McLaurin's seat will be vacant; if McLaurin is successful, he will succeed to Tillman's long term.

McLaurin had been invited to Gaffney and friends of Tillman asked him to come, too. McLaurin accused Tillman of attacking him when Tillman was in a bomb-proof. The latter declared that he would resign and meet McLaurin on the stump. McLaurin agreed to the proposition. Senator Tillman later submitted a written proposition, which was acceptable to McLaurin, except that the latter wanted the election to be held in October or November, instead of this Summer. McLaurin stated that this was suggested on account of his poor health. There were several proposals submitted between the two. Senator McLaurin wanted the race to be confined to Seoator Tillman and himself. The latter declared that he could not dictate to the State Democratic Executive Committee when the primary should be held or how many candidates there should be.

The dual resignation, as finally forwarded to Governor McSweeney, was accompanied by no conditions. It reads:

"We hereby tender our resignations as Senators for the State of South Carolina in the United States Senate, to take effect on November 15th next.

"Yours, respectfully, etc."

Under the election methods in this State the State Democratic Executive Committee will arrange a campaign, and the candidates will speak in each of the forty counties in the State. At the primary election the candidates will be voted for directly. The General Assembly merely confirms the action of the primary. The campaign will be pitched a year earlier than expected, but there are a half dozen candidates in the field. Each must specify for which term he is a candidate.

McLaurin's Statement.

ATLANTA, GA., May 25.—A special to the Constitution from Gaffney, S. C., says:

Senator McLaurin, when asked about the resignations, said: "Tillman made a bluff and I called him. All I desire is a free race and an open fight on the issues upon which we differ. I earnestly hope that all others will keep out of our race and run for the other senatorship, so that Tillman and I may meet as man to man and fight it out."

Tillman Interviewed.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 25.—A special to the Observer from Gaffney, S. C., says:

Senator Tillman was seen at the train, after the resignation had been signed and was asked what would, in a word, be the effect of the resignation. He replied:

"It will mean that we are to have either two Republican Senators or two Democrats."

"Well, will you and Senator McLaurin enter the primary before the people for re-election?"

"I am going before the people and there will be a number of candidates. I don't know what McLaurin will do; but I presume if his health will permit, that he will also run."

"Will you both run for the term which you have just vacated?"

"He can run for either one. There is no restriction about that. The resignation is unconditional, and he might as well run my for seat as his own."

"Are you entirely confident of being re-elected to the term which you have just given up?"

"I see no reason why I should have fear as to the result. I have nothing personally against McLaurin. I merely want the people to decide the matter and vindicate me."

GERMAN TROOPS IN CHINA.

Present Time Regarded as Opportune for Withdrawal of Von Waldersee.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The State Department has been advised that the German government regards the present time as opportune for the withdrawal of Field Marshal Von Waldersee, commander of the international forces in China. Nothing is stated as to the exact date for the return of the field marshal nor as to the number of German troops that will be left in China, but it is hoped at the State Department that the German government will follow our own example and withdraw all but a legation guard. The United States force will remain in command of a major and he will not be permitted to assume the command of the international forces even if so invited.

STEWARD ARRESTED.

Charged With Abstracting Gold From the Specie Room of a Steamer.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BERLIN, May 25.—Theodore Magers, the bed room steward of the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, who in April last, at Bremen, found the three gold bars behind a cornice in the corridor outside the second class saloon which had been missed from the specie room on the arrival of the steamer at Cherbourg, and who claimed and obtained the reward of 10,000 marks offered for the recovery of the gold, has been arrested at Bremerhaven, at the instance of the North German Lloyd Company, charged with being the man who abstracted the gold from the specie room.

SOUTHERN PRESBYTERIANS.

Unfinished Business Disposed Of and the General Assembly Adjourned Sine Die—Home Missions.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., May 25—After adopting the usual resolutions of thanks the forty first session of the Presbyterian General Assembly adjourned sine die at 10:30 P. M. to-day. A majority left on the afternoon trains. At this morning's session of the Assembly the unfinished business of the session was disposed of.

Rev Dr. Beattie made a report for the committee on publication, showing that the publication plant is worth about $60,000. The new hymn book, he reported, is now ready, printed, and will soon be on sale.

Dr. S. M Smith presented a protest against the action of the Assembly in declining the invitation to participate in Confederate memorial exercises, but after the original resolution was read he withdrew his protest.

The Assembly adopted the report of the committee on Sabbath observance, urging the people to remember the Sabbath day and keep it holy, and that all ministers preach on Sabbath observance at least once a year.

In response to an overture from the Montgomery Presbytery as to the validity of ordaining a probationer by two ministers and one elder, the Assembly declared that an ordination so made is not strictly regular, yet when sanctified by the presbytery is valid.

The Home Missions executive committee was directed to turn over the property, books and papers of the invalid fund to the ministerial relief executive committee to take charge of the work of raising and distributing funds for the relief of disabled ministers and their families.

At the business session last night Rev. S. L. Morris, of Macon, Ga., the new secretary of the Home Missions Committee, was received, the commissioners standing in welcome to him. Dr. Morris said the honor had come to him unsought. He announced his acceptance, after prayerful consideration and consultation with his home people. The moderator called upon Dr. Boggs, of Holly Springs, Miss., to offer a prayer for the success of the new manager of Home Missions and Dr. Boggs responded.

PREPARATIONS AT MEMPHIS.

For the Great Reunion of Confederate Veterans—Expected to Eclipse Any Similar Event Ever Held.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

MEMPHIS, TENN., May 25.—All is in readiness for the great re-union of Confederate veterans which will be held in this city on May 28th, 29th and 30th. At a meeting, of the executive committee to-night the various chairmen reported that their work had been finished and that on Monday the gates of the city would be thrown open to the old soldiers. The finance committee, under the chairmanship of A. B Pickett, has raised $100,000 which is being expended for the entertainment and comfort of the veterans and visitors. A large building with a seating capacity of 16,000, has been erected on the Bluffs, overlooking the Mississippi river, and General Moorman on a recent tour of inspection declared that it was the most commodious and elaborate building yet tendered the veterans at their annual meeting. Preparations have been made to feed, free of cost six thousand persons daily. In the way of entertainment there will be a grand floral parade, which it is confidently expected will eclipse any similar event ever held in the South. A brilliant fire works display will be another attraction, while balls will be given in Confederate Hall in honor of the visiting sponsors and sons of veterans.

BRITISH STEAMER ASHORE.

The Robinia From Charleston for Baltimore Stranded at Cape Henry.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CAPE HENRY, VA., May 25—The British steamer Robinia, from Charleston for Baltimore, stranded off this station this afternoon, during a dense fog. Captain Nelson Holmes and crew of the Cape Henry life saving station boarded the vessel with the life boat Captain Lash, of the steamer, stated that the accident which occurred at 4.50 P. M. was due to very heavy fog which set in at 1.40 and lasted till 6:25 P. M. The Robinia lies justinside Cape Henry, head on, and about 350 yards off shore. A Merritt wrecking tug has arrived, but probably will not be able to render assistance before daylight. The captain and crew of the steamship remain aboard. The Robinia is from North Shields, England, and was on her way to Baltimore in ballast to load for Europe.

LYNCHING IN OKLAHOMA.

Negro Taken From Jail and Hanged by a Mob for Murder.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WICHITA, KAS., May 25.—A special to the Eagle says that Bill Campbell, a negro, was lynched at Pond Creek, Oklahoma, at 10 o'clock to-night by a mob of four hundred persons who broke down the jail, took him to the scene of his crime and hanged him to a telegraph pole. The crime for which Campbell was hanged was the fatal shooting of Deputy Sheriff George Smith.

Jackson (Stonewall) and hundreds of others buried in the Lexington cemetery. The memorial address was delivered this afternoon by Rev. Dr. J. A. MORE ARRESTS MADE IN MANILA.

Army Officers Charged With Trading in Permits to Ship Hemp.

WILL BE COURT MARTIALED.

Prosecutions Against Carman and Others for Trading With Insurgents Abandoned—American Troops to be Sent Against Insurgents.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

MANILA, May 25.—The prosecution against D. M. Carman, Senor Carranza and others accused of trading with the insurgents, has been abandoned. The military authorities consider that although the convictions of a number of Manila merchants would be practically certain were the investigations continued their prosecution would be inexpedient, as the consequent damages to business would outweigh the good accomplished.

Provost General Davis, who has reviewed the testimony in the Carman cases, said to the correspondent of the Associated Press that while Carman could be convicted of trading with the insurgents, it would be unjust to punish him when nearly every trader in Manila is guilty of similar practices.

Unless General Cailles and Malvar surrrender quickly, General MacArthur will concentrate a strong force of American troops and surround them. Cailles is vainly hoping for a guarantee from the American authorities that he will not be tried for the murders and atrocities he is alleged to have committed. Malvar is boasting that he will be the last insurgent to surrender.

The attempt of General Hughes to accomplish the surrender of the insurgent leader, Iucban, on the island of Samar, is without result. Battery F. of the Fifth artillery, formerly commanded by the late Capt. Henry J. Reilly, has arrived here from China.

Captain Michael Spellman, Lieutenant Delbert R. Jones and Surgeon Dudley W. Welch, of Company G, Forty third infantry, stationed at Maasin, Southern Leyte, have been arrested on a charge of trading in permits to ship hemp from closed ports. They will be tried by court martial. It has not been determined whether Manila hemp buyers are directly implicated.

COAL RATES REDUCED.

Caused by Prospective Invasion of Oil for Fuel From Texas.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., May 25.—The cheapest coal rate in the history of mining in this district has just been announced for shipments to New Orleans, Mobile and Pensacola, a reduction of more than 25 per cent having been made. This reduction makes the rate to New Orleans $1.25 per ton; to Mobile $1.10, and to Pensacola $1.10. The rates heretofore have been $1.75 to each city.

The admitted cause of the reduction of rates to New Orleans is the prospective invasion of oil from the Texas fields for the purposes of fuel.
